

Conferees Offer Clean Air Measure

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees have forged a bill to protect the public health from dirty air, charting a campaign that could shut down auto production lines and send willful polluters to jail.

The legislation follows the lines of a Senate bill written principally by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine. It represents an important personal victory for him.

Muskie, tired after two months of negotiations with House members, said Wednesday night the final bill is far tougher than any that has gone before. He said the conference wrote a bill stronger in most respects than either of the two original versions.

The measure may still earn barbs from environmentalists complaining it still does not go far enough, Muskie aides commented.

But it does create a new arsenal of federal pollution control measures, and authorizes spending $1 billion over three years to help pay for the fight.

The weapons include granting the government the right to inspect private property for pollution violations, to subpoena records of suspected air polluters and even to require factories to pay for and install pollution monitors.

The measure sets national standards for all potential new sources of air pollution—such as industrial plants—and sets criminal penalties for willful polluters with fines up to $50,000 a day and jail sentences of up to two years.

It also would give all citizens and groups the right to sue in federal court to compel all polluters, including the United States government, to cease and desist.

The measure's most controversial provision sets a Jan. 1, 1975 deadline for the nation's exhaust emissions on assembly line cars by 90 per cent.

A one-year, once-only deadline extension could be granted by the Environmental Protection Agency upon adequate proof that after an honest, good faith effort, the industry was not able to produce adequate emission control devices.

Further extensions, if any, would have to come from Congress, Muskie said.

The report of the conference committee must now be considered by the House and Senate. Their approval would send the bill to the White House for President Nixon's signature.

Later, a spokesman said the Army is gravely concerned by the reports and is looking into them. He added that Army policy emphatically prohibits collection of information of the type reportedly gathered in Illinois.

And White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said in response to a question: "It's inconceivable to me that that would take place. We certainly don't condone it."

Another former military intelligence agent said in an AP interview Wednesday night that similar data had been collected by Army agents in other sections of the country.

As an example, he cited information he said was compiled by the Army in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area during April and May of 1968.

This former agent, who would not allow use of his name, said the files, consisting of index cards naming individuals and groups, were being discarded by the Army.

There have been earlier reports that other regional military intelligence centers were building files on civilians.

NBC television, for instance, reported Dec. 1 that agents in Washington had compiled dossiers on many private citizens, including Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Still other reports have indicated that military intelligence agents had mingled among delegates at the 1968 Democratic and Republican conventions.

ment" in upholding the bars on U.S. combat troops and military advisers, the disclaimer of U.S. commitment to defend Cambodia and the requirement of advance notice before any American aid funds are transferred to Cambodia.

Meanwhile, fights are brewing in the Senate over decisions by Senate-House conferees—ratified Wednesday by the House—to water down key provisions in two appropriations bills—the $66.6-billion defense money bill and the $2.5-billion foreign aid measure.

But both measures are stacked up behind the transportation appropriations bill, containing funds for the controversial supersonic transport plane, on which debate began Wednesday with SST opponents determined to keep talking.

A fourth money measure, the $2.1-billion supplemental appropriations measure containing the actual funds for Cambodia authorized by the Senate Wednesday, goes before Senate-House conferees today.

The chief issue: a Senate provision that withholds actual appropriation of the aid funds until the authorizing legislation becomes law.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield expressed confidence Senate conferees will stand firm on the provision.

Mansfield secured approval of an agreement by which the Senate will debate controversial measures, starting with the transportation appropriation, for six hours each day before turning at mid-afternoon to other measures.

Meanwhile, the Foreign Relations Committee finally released the unclassified version of a report on U.S. activities in Cambodia written by two staff members, James G. Lowenstein and Richard M. Moose, who spent eight days in Phnom Penh recently.

Theologian, Poet Indicted by U.S. Jury

By AMBROSE B. DUDLEY
Associated Press Writer

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Dr. William Stringfellow, a lay theologian and poet Anthony Towne were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of harboring antiwar priest the Rev. Daniel Berrigan who eluded authorities for five months following his conviction on charges of destroying draft records in Maryland.

FBI agents last Aug. 11 arrested Father Berrigan at the one-story yellow Block Island house owned by Towne and Stringfellow.

"A Christian does what he must do as a Christian," Stringfellow and Towne said in a joint statement immediately following Berrigan's arrest.

The indictment alleges that the two harbored Father Berrigan from Aug. 7 to Aug. 11.

U.S. Dist. Atty. Lincoln C. Almond said he expected the two to be surrendered by their attorney at the U.S. marshal's office.

The maximum penalty upon conviction for harboring a fugitive is five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Father Daniel Berrigan and his brother, the Rev. Philip Berrigan, are now serving three-year terms in the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn. They were convicted last April 9 of destroying draft records at Catonsville, Md.

Father Daniel Berrigan then went underground.

In their statement following Berrigan's arrest Towne and Stringfellow said:

"Berrigan is our friend and is always welcome in our home. Any visit from him is an honor for us because he is a priest of uncommon conscience, he is a citizen of urgent moral purpose and a human being of exemplary courage."

Stringfellow, who moved to the island because of ill health, declined in an August interview to say how long Berrigan had been at the house.

Stringfellow said he and Towne had been collaborating on a number of books.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover recently accused the Berrigan brothers of being ringleaders in a plot to kidnap a high government official or White House aide. Hoover told a Senate committee the group allegedly headed by the Berrigans wanted to hold the official for ransom for an end to U.S. bombing in Vietnam and release of so-called political prisoners in the United States.

13 Lawmakers Turned Down Bankers' Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new report to Congress shows at least 13 lawmakers have turned down controversial campaign donations from a bankers' political fund.

This left 13 others, including presidential contender Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, and a Georgia congressman who had no election opponent, were listed as recipients of the banking group's contributions.

The Bankers Political Action Committee touched off the dispute last month when it reported giving more than $40,000 to members of the House and Senate Banking Committees in the last few days before the election.

The Justice Department began a probe after House Banking Committee chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., accused the bankers' group of trying to weaken a bill to prohibit one-bank holding companies from branching out into other business fields. A compromise version of this bill passed the House 364 to 4 Wednesday and is awaiting Senate action.

Six members of a Senate-House committee that shaped the post-election compromise were listed as turning down contributions that ranged from $1,000 to $5,000 each.

The fund made its revised report in a letter to the House this week listing "the campaign contributions ... which were refused and ... returned in full."

Omitted from the revisions and therefore still listed as recipients of banking contributions were such prominent legislators as Muskie, $2,500; Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., Ind.-Va., $5,000, and Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., $4,000.

Glover Again on Trial for Murder

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — The second murder trial in less than a year for Clyde Ray Glover, 37, of Paragould is scheduled to begin in Circuit Court here Monday.

Glover was convicted late last year in the death of Judy Evans, 20, of Rector, who's burned body was found in the burning remains of her father's automobile in a gravel pit near Paragould on March 1, 1969.

The Supreme Court overturned that conviction on June 29 on grounds that Judge Charles W. Light of Paragould erred by overruling challenges Glover's attorney made against four prospective jurors.

Bumpers to Offer Plan in One Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. elect Dale Bumpers said Wednesday that his plan for a major reorganization of state government would be offered in one bill to the 1971 legislative session.

Bumpers previously had said there might be time in the session to accomplish only a start on the reorganization he desires.

But he said Wednesday he had "every intention," of asking in one piece of legislation for the extensive governmental overhaul he envisions.

Bumpers said major reorganization was essential. He said it could be accomplished in one session.

The governor-elect said in an interview he and members of his staff were working on several plans for reorganization. A review of the governmental structure of other states is included in their deliberations, he said.

A draft of one of Bumpers' organizational plans proposes reducing the number of major state agencies to 13. About 65 state agencies, boards and commissions would be made divisions or components of the 13 departments under that draft, which Bumpers' legislative aide Charles D. Matthews said he prepared for Bumpers' consideration.

Artificial Turf May Not Be Safer

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University, playing all of its 10-game football schedule on supposedly safer artificial turf, this year suffered more player injuries than ever before.

But while the team doctor believes a synthetic field allows players to run faster and hit harder, he doesn't blame that. Instead, says Dr. Lawrence Jarrett, the culprit is the modern equipment that's worn these days.

Out of 26 injuries for the MSU Spartans this year, 13 sidelined their victims for the rest of the season, Jarrett said. Some 19 "important players" missed "considerable portions" of the Spartans' 4-6 season this fall, said Fred Stabile, sports information director.

Last year, when MSU first began playing and practicing on the tough, asphalt-based playing surface, season-long injuries sidelined about a dozen players — more than twice the norm over all the years stretching back to 1896 when football started in East Lansing.

Safety was a widely stressed rationale for the various types of synthetic carpet that have been promoted. MSU had one installed during the summer of 1969 at a cost of $250,000.

Major manufacturers bought lavish advertisements in mass-circulated sporting magazines and athletic trade publications to tout the contribution of their fields to avoiding injuries.

Wearing short, molded-rubber cleats long used by European soccer teams, players supposedly would face less risk to knees and ankles than they had with longer, nylon and metal cleats on grass and mud.

But 10 knee injuries and four sprained ankles led the list of categories that cost the Spartans top players on football Saturdays this year, Jarrett said.

Jarrett, white-haired and bluntly outspoken, won't knock the field, but says it does help speed up the collisions.

There's no question that the field adds a dimension to the game, says Jarrett.

"Linemen run faster. There's greater traction, they have better control, there's greater pursuit," he said.

And the more sophisticated uniform equipment, Jarrett is convinced influences the injury rate. He says he'd like to see some body like the Big Ten Athletic Commission order a return to some of the old equipment — especially leather helmets without face masks.

Stars Make the Pros Look Like Rank Amateurs

by THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Utah Stars made the Memphis Pros look like the rank amateur Wednesday night.

With nine players scoring in double figures, the Stars blasted the Pros 145-101 in American Basketball Association. The only other game saw Kentucky defeat Indiana 125-110.

In the NBA, the New York Knicks whipped Cleveland 108-84, Los Angeles downed Cincinnati 118-102, Atlanta turned back San Diego 128-117 and San Francisco defeated Seattle 108-91.

Donnie Freeman's 22 points were high for Utah, which opened a 50-point lead when Dick Nemeika's layup with 4½ minutes left made it 137-87.

Dan Issel's 32 points paced Kentucky to its first victory in three starts against Indiana. After trailing by 12 at halftime,

Terrapins Got Beat, Coach Got Socked

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

"The Maryland Terrapins not only got walloped by the South Carolina Gamecocks, their coach got socked, too.

Lefty Driesell, the Terps' coach, was punched by John Ribock, a South Carolina player, as he tried to break up a fight among players of both teams that erupted near the Maryland bench Wednesday night.

The melee caused referee Gene Conley to call off the college basketball game at Columbia, S.C. with 4:52 left to play. At the time the nationally second-ranked Gamecocks were far ahead at 96-70 and that went into the books as the final score.

"John Ribock hit me," said Driesell who suffered a bruised cheek and lip. "All I was trying to do was to get him off people."

Ribock was not available for comment.

Rick Aydtlett of South Carolina and Jay Flowers of Maryland first came to blows under the Gamecock basket. The officials broke that up, but the fighting erupted again near the Maryland bench among players from both teams.

"It was like a bomb explosion," said Frank McGuire, South Carolina coach. "Some spark set it off and then who really knows what happened after that?"

"I shook hands with Driesell," McGuire continued. "But he was very mad."

"I would like for somebody to research how many times this South Carolina team has been involved in fights over the last two seasons," Driesell said. "There is no excuse for a team that has this much basketball talent fighting when they have a 30-point lead. I don't think it should be tolerated."

Howard White scored 38 points for Maryland while Tom Owens led South Carolina with 28.

The Gamecocks were the only team in the Associated Press Top Twenty to see action.

Navy beat Georgetown 76-69 in two overtimes, Fordham whipped Columbia 83-67, Brown upended Yale 79-66, Louisiana State defeated Tulane 94-79 and Brigham Young trampled Denver 100-72.

Jack Conrad's basket broke a 63-63 tie in the second extra period and put Navy ahead for good as the Middles snapped a four-game losing streak.

St. Francis, Pa. humbled East Carolina 71-67, Wichita State routed Nevada, Reno, 97-69, Toledo tripped San Francisco State 71-54 and Miami of Ohio downed Ball State 70-53 in other games.

Bonavena's Doctor Bans January Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — A 10-round heavyweight fight is set for Jan. 22 in Madison Square Garden between Oscar Bonavena and Floyd Patterson, but Bonavena says he can't make it — doctor's orders.

Harry Markson, director of boxing for the Garden, announced the fight Wednesday. But Wednesday night Bonavena said in Buenos Aires: "I want to have this fight since I gave my word to Mr. Teddy Brenner (Garden matchmaker), but my personal doctor has advised me to rest and forget boxing for awhile, and I have no other choice but to do just that."

Told of Bonavena's statement, Markson said, "I don't know what this is all about. We were talking to Bonavena on the phone only yesterday (Tuesday), and he told us he was ready to fight on Jan. 22 and would be here on Jan. 10."

Bonavena's physician, Dr. Robert Palandino, said last week after Bonavena returned home after being stopped in the 15th round by Muhammad Ali that the fighter was in excellent physical condition but "he is exhausted after his extraordinary fight ..."

Bonavena said he thought he would be ready to fight again by the middle of February.

Markson said Patterson, the former world heavyweight champion, and Bonavena each would be guaranteed $80,000 against 25 per cent of the gate.

Nicklaus to Compete 8-10 More Years

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — At the age of 30, golf's Jack Nicklaus said today he looks forward to playing competitively for eight or 10 more years—or possibly longer.

Nicklaus flew to this resort just north of San Diego to accept an oil portrait and the accolade of West Coast golf writers as Golfer of the Year. The 1970 British Open champion said he plans to play in 25 tournaments in 1971, starting with the Bing Crosby Pro-Am, the Andy Williams-San Diego Open, the Hawaii Open and in late February, the updated PGA championship in Florida.

Hazzard Gives Works to Rockets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Atlanta's Walt Hazzard were to give Alex Hannum the shirt off his back, the harried San Diego coach probably would take it. All Hazzard gave the Rockets Wednesday night, however, was the works.

Hannum protested the Hawks' 128-117 National Basketball Association victory because they, like the visiting Rockets, wore dark shirts. He contended the similarity was a factor in San Diego's 19 turnovers. It was the first time this season an opponent had committed more turnovers than the Hawks.

"Atlanta was not wearing white uniforms, which the home team is supposed to do," Hannum explained. "After we threw the ball away a half-dozen times, I protested because both teams were wearing dark uniforms. It was particularly bad because of the lighting, which I won't call bad but I will label peculiar. Their uniforms had a definite bearing on the game."

Hazzard scored 10 points over a three-minute stretch early in the fourth quarter to break open a tight game. He finished with 31 points and 11 assists, while Pete Maravich scored 27 and Bill Bridges 20, with a like number of rebounds. San Diego got 31 points from Stu Lantz and 30 from Elvin Hayes.

Elsewhere in the NBA, New York trounced Cleveland 108-84, Los Angeles whipped Cincinnati 118-102, and San Francisco defeated Seattle 108-91.

In the ABA, it was Kentucky 125, Indiana 110 and Utah 145, Memphis 101.

New York, held to a 50-50 half-time tie, outscored Cleveland 30-16 in the third period and sent the atrocious Cavaliers to their sixth consecutive defeat and 33rd in 35 games. Walt Frazier paced the Knicks with 22 points and John Johnson had 21 for the losers.

Will Chamberlain, who scored 35 points, pulled down 18 rebounds and had six assists, helped Los Angeles to a 21-point lead in the third period and an easy triumph over Cincinnati.

Jerry West added 25 points that left him 17 shy of the 20,000 mark for his career. Tom Van Arsdale was high for the Royals with 26.

Jeff Mullins and Jerry Lucas provided the fourth-period scoring impetus in San Francisco's conquest of Seattle. Mullins collected eight of his 23 points and Lucas six of his game-high 29 in the Warriors' last-quarter spurt. Lenny Wilkens topped the SuperSonics with 28.

Fights Mean More Fines in Hockey Play

MONTREAL (AP) — Some National Hockey League players may have second thoughts before they become embroiled in any more bench-clearing brawls this season.

The players—members of Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Chicago, Minnesota, California and Pittsburgh—received word Wednesday from NHL President Clarence Campbell on fines the league is imposing as a result of five general melees this season. Campbell doled out a total of $15,850 in fines following an investigation into the five brawls. Included in the total was $13,600 given automatically for the infractions.

A club fine of $1,000 against Montreal was assessed because the Canadiens were involved in three of the five incidents on which Campbell passed judg-

Lions Would Eliminate Coin Flip

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League said Tuesday night the Detroit Lions have asked about the possibility of a one-game playoff rather than a coin flip to determine the second-place playoff team in the National Conference.

Such a move, however, would mean a change in the constitution and would require unanimous consent of all 26 teams. A spokesman for the NFL said Commissioner Pete Rozelle told the Lions he did not think such consent would be forthcoming.

The three teams that could be involved in a coin flip—Detroit, Dallas and the New York Giants—were to be consulted Thursday concerning details of the toss.

Even if the three teams involved agree to a playoff, the other 23 teams in the league must also approve it. At a regular league meeting, only 20 votes would be required.

ment Wednesday. "This type of brawling has got to stop," said Campbell. "Penalties will be increased, including suspension until the proper result is achieved."

A rule went into effect last Saturday stating that "a bench minor penalty shall be imposed on the team of the first player to leave his bench" to join a fight.

All fines will be withheld by the respective clubs from the salaries of players involved and go to the NHL players' emergency fund.

Bobby Orr Is Honored by Magazine

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Orr is Sports Illustrated's 1970 Sportsman of the Year—marking the third time in the last four years that a Boston athlete has won the award.

"Bobby would have been an obvious choice in any year," SI publisher Dick Munro said Wednesday in announcing the selection of the Boston Bruins' spectacular young defenseman who rewrote the National Hockey League record book in leading his team to the Stanley Cup last season.

"We can't think when an athlete in any year dominated his sport to such a degree," Munro added.

The 22-year-old Orr became the first defenseman to lead the NHL, in scoring last season with 120 points. His 33 goals were the most ever scored by a defenseman, and his 87 assists were a record for any position.

Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox won the award in 1967. Bill Russell of the basketball Celtics was chosen the following year, then Tom Seaver of the New York Mets took it last year before it returned again to Boston for 1970.

Pros 2-Month Loss Placed at $200,000

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "I was prepared to lose money in the first season. But not $200,000 in the first two months of operation," commented Memphis Pros' owner P.L. Blake Wednesday.

Blake was reacting to the decision of the American Basketball Association to assume financial control of the Memphis franchise.

The action was revealed Wednesday, and the league will seek a new owner for the club.

Jack Dolph, ABA commissioner, reportedly plans to keep the team in Memphis, however, and seek a new owner who will keep the club here.

Heavy cash losses combined with poor home attendance prompted Blake's decision to sell the team, which he moved to Memphis from New Orleans in August.

Charles Cavagnaro, Pros' general manager, said he anticipates no changes in the team's personnel or policies under the ABA's supervision.

The move by the ABA is not unique. Last season the league took over the Miami franchise and found a new owner for it.

Frazier, Ali Will Get $3 Million Each

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier's manager says Frazier and his next opponent, Muhammad Ali, will get $3 million each for their as yet unscheduled bout.

Yancy (Yank) Durham said Wednesday he has received several offers for the fight, including ones from Madison Square Garden, the Houston Astrodome and from closed circuit television.

"I have an agreement with Ali and his people that both boys will get the same amount of money when they fight. Between us," Durham said, "there's no question that we're gonna fight."

"The only question," he continued, "is where and for whom. When we get what we want, we'll settle on the date."

Cardinals, Rams Lead in Statistics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams and St. Louis Cardinals, statistically the best-balanced teams in the National Conference of the National Football League, will nevertheless be fighting for their playoff lives Sunday.

The Rams will be in New York against the Giants while the Cards play in Washington and both must win—and then wait for other teams to lose—to have any chance at making the playoffs.

But although the Rams and Cards are teetering on the brink of elimination, the latest NFL statistics released today show that they rank high both offensively and defensively.

The Cards are the top offensive team in the NFC with a total of 4,221 yards and rank sixth defensively. The Rams are third on defense and fourth offensively.

St. Louis' offensive lead is a slim one—four yards over the Giants. Dallas, however, is the top rushing team in the conference with 2,092 yards to Detroit's 2,036, while San Francisco is the passing leader with 2,752 yards to 2,468 for the Giants.

Defensively, Minnesota has yielded only 2,672 yards and hold a huge lead over the Lions, who have allowed 3,324. The Vikings' pass defense has given up only 1,353 yards to 1,807 for runner-up Philadelphia. Detroit is the strongest against the rush, yielding 1,106 yards to 1,309 for Los Angeles.

In AFC total offense, Oakland leads Houston 4,471 yards to 3,911. Miami is the best rushing team with 1,923 yards to Oakland's 1,876 and the Raiders hold a 2,595-2,441 passing edge over Houston.

The New York Jets, long gone from playoff contention, have a slim lead of three yards defensively over Kansas City, 3,198 to 3,201. The Jets have permitted only 1,181 yards on the ground to 1,269 for Denver and the Chiefs have a 1,687-1,918 lead in pass defense over Oakland.

Freed Traded to Phillies by Orioles

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Baltimore Orioles outfielder Roger Freed, 1970 Most Valuable Player in the Triple A International League, has been traded to the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Orioles got left-handed pitcher Grant Jackson, and two other players in the trade which the Phillies say was designed to give them more hitting power.

The Phillies also gave up minor league outfielder Sam Parilla and utility man Jim Hutto, who played outfield and first base.

Lockett and Davis Top AIC Scorers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gerald Lockett of Arkansas AM&N and Danny Davis of Henderson are the leading scorers in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

Lockett has averaged 25.8 points a game and Davis is close behind with 24.9.

Next in line are Tommy Shaw of Arkansas Tech and Rick Mobley of Arkansas A&M. Shaw carries a 22.8 point average and Mobley is averaging 21.6.

Kentucky Derby Issue Going to Court

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A decision on what thoroughbred won the 1968 Kentucky Derby purse appears headed to Kentucky's highest court today, following a decision by the State Racing Commission to appeal a lower court's ruling to award the money to Dancer's Image.

In a unanimous vote Wednesday, the five commissioners agreed to take the case to the Court of Appeals as soon as the Franklin Circuit Court decision is made final.

Circuit Judge Henry Meigs, in a ruling last Friday, said there was insufficient evidence to disqualify Peter Fuller's colt from participation in the purse of the 1968 Derby.

Meigs' ruling overruled the commission's decision last year which held that Calumet Farm's Forward Pass should receive the $122,000 first prize but that Dancer's Image was the winner of the race.

Fuller, a wealthy Boston auto car dealer, began his legal battle after that decision.

Meigs said in his ruling that tests run on Dancer's Image by the commission chemist, Kenneth Smith, were "inadequate and contradictory."

Smith had tested the colt after the race and reported later that Dancer's Image showed traces of phenylbutazone, a forbidden medication, in his urinalysis.

If the appellate court upholds the lower court decision, state Racing Commissioner George Egger indicated the matter would not be appealed further. "I think it is a state matter," Egger said, after announcing the commission's decision.

Henderson State College finished fourth in passing defense,

Ouachita Back 4th in Nation in Rushing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Johnny Baker, a Ouachita Baptist University freshman, finished fourth in the nation in rushing and tied for eighth in scoring, according to the final NAIA statistics released Wednesday. Baker carried 262 times for 1,614 yards, an average of 161.4 yards a game. He also scored 90 points on 15 touchdowns.

Henderson State College finished fourth in passing defense, permitting 72.2 yards a game and Harding College was 19th with an average of 89.4 yards a game.

Southern State was 24th in total defense and 30th in rushing defense. Arkansas Tech ranked 22nd in rushing offense with 249.8 yards a game and Ouachita was 26th with 238.4 yards a game.

Space Age Firsts

On Oct. 4, 1957, the Soviet Union put the first man-made satellite, Sputnik I, into orbit. On Jan. 31, 1958, the United States launched its first satellite, Explorer I. These two events marked the beginning of the "age of space."

There Was Such Woman as Scarlett

By DALA MCKINSEY
Associated Press Writer

"She knew how to smile so that her dimples leaped, how to talk pigeon-toed so that her wide hoop skirts swayed entrancingly, how to look up into a man's face and then drop her eyes and bat the lids rapidly so that she seemed a-tremble with gentle emotion. Most of all, she learned how to conceal from men a sharp intelligence beneath a face as sweet and bland as a baby's."—Margaret Mitchell about Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With The Wind."

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Was there ever such a woman, who swayed gracefully beneath frills and hooped skirts on the wide verandas of the South—or was she just a myth?

Mrs. Margaret Kolb, chairman of the Governor's Commission on the Status of Women, says there was.

"There was such a woman, but that woman had a mind of her own," said Mrs. Kolb. "She became an uncanny psychologist."

The expectations of the Southern woman "caused women to be great deceivers," according to Mrs. Kolb.

"Women have great stamina, whether under a hooped skirt or on horseback," she said. "The Southern woman was anything but a plaything for a man."

Mrs. Kolb is a Southern woman who wants to make sure that other Southern women have the right to fulfill their needs, whether it be in the home or on the job.

Although she expressed empathy with the woman's liberation movement, she prefers to walk through legislative channels.

Through the commission, "we have done a great deal for women's rights, because we have been proving that women can assume a great deal of responsibility," she said.

However, she said, "we are doing it the hard, tedious way, which is not as exciting" as the women's lib demonstrations.

Mrs. Kolb said it was impossible to have the time to work with legislation and attitudes and "run to Washington and chain ourselves to fence posts."

She said there were other ways to make "our point" than marching into a meeting and creating a disruption.

But, she said "the women's lib movement has made some contribution in calling attention to the fact that women have not always" had the opportunity to act as they would like.

"It is always the girl Friday that does the work and the man takes the credit," she said.

The commission has set up several committees to work for change through the legislative process.

Mrs. Kolb mentioned a labor standards committee, where the concern is for higher wages and more job opportunities for women.

There are many misconceptions about women in the labor force, Mrs. Kolb said.

"Women, by in large, are more industrious and are usually rapid learners and elastic in their adjustment," she said.

She said statistics from the U.S. Labor Department refute the theory that women are not able physically to work a 40-hour week as men do. She said that the statistics also show that men having a slight edge over women in the number of sick leave days taken.

Mrs. Kolb says the commission is also concerned about women having adequate counseling, both in school and in later years.

One of the commission's projects is to survey the schools and determine if women are being told they can do jobs other than the traditional feminine career fields of nursing and teaching.

Mrs. Kolb says that counseling also is needed for the middle-aged woman who has lost her sense of security and does not feel there is anything for her to contribute to society.

In an effort to fulfill this emotional and probable financial vacuum, The Arkansas Travelers program was created in which women are trained to help in homes where there are patients who need extended care.

She said the pay under the program is not large but often it is enough to help these women "maintain their homes."

Among the main concerns of the commission are laws that discriminate against women.

The prime example, said Mrs. Kolb, is a state law providing for imprisonment of women alcoholics. There is no such law for men.

She would like to see this law abolished.

Mrs. Kolb foresees a bright future for women in Arkansas. For proof in that direction, she noted that women had been elected as delegates to the state Constitutional Convention, where they might not have been in years past.

She points with obvious pride to Mrs. Leona Troxell, who is head of the state Employment Security Division, and to Mrs.

Dorothy Stuck, who is director of the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the Dallas office. For Mrs. Kolb, these two women are examples that women can hold responsible jobs.

"I think that women in Arkansas have been recognized with real stature in the last four years," she said.

Mrs. Kolb credits Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller for many of the advances made by women in the state, by appointing Mrs. Troxell to her post and recommending Mrs. Stuck for her position.

Mrs. Kolb headed Democrats for Rockefeller during the last campaign, in which he was defeated by Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers.

She said she did not think that the trends would be reversed when Bumpers takes office. She said some of the positions like Mrs. Troxell's may be lost, but the accomplishments will remain.

The commission is a catalyst to encourage women's groups to expand their interests beyond bridge and luncheons, said Mrs. Kolb.

The commission has been sponsoring a series of regional workshops for women and employers to show just what women can do. She said that one of the main thrusts of these workshops is to get women back into the work force in areas where they are needed, such as nursing.

However, Mrs. Kolb does not advocate that all women in Arkansas leaving their homes and families in pursuit of careers.

"The new feminists movement really does not want to do away with the woman on the home front scene. They are what makes it possible for children to grow up with strength and stability," she said.

"I think that her (the woman's) base of operation is still in the home," said Mrs. Kolb,

Shopping Center Industry Seeks Money

By JOHN CUNIFF
ap business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Recognizing that it will need as much as $6 billion a year in expansion capital for at least the next 15 years, the shopping center industry came to Wall Street with its story this week.

Such trips always have as their purpose the use of other people's money, of course, but in relating their hopes for the future, the shopping center people revealed a good deal about their own money situation.

Upon completion, for example, the value of a good shopping center will be 25 per cent to 33 per cent higher than the total cost of production, said Albert Keidel Jr., an officer of The Rouse Co., a Columbia, Md., developer.

"Not a bad margin," he added. As a member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Keidel addressed his remarks to the New York Society of Security Analysts. But the impact can be lost on none but the most naive.

Keidel was really just beginning, though. "If it is located and operated properly, its value will continue to grow and it will produce an increasing cash flow and an increasing return on investment," he said.

Giacomin Is Doing Well in Face Mask

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Giacomin's brand new face mask is one-for-one—a shutout in its first National Hockey League appearance. You can't ask for a better debut than that.

Giacomin kicked out 20 shots Wednesday night for his fourth shutout of the season—the first one in his ghostly-looking new milky white mask—as the New York Rangers blanked the Buffalo Sabres 4-0.

It was the second straight shutout for New York—Gilles Villemure blanked Los Angeles Sunday—and extended the Rangers' home ice unbeaten streak to 15 games. Giacomin and Villemure have six shutouts between them and New York's 58 goals against is the best defensive mark of any team in the NHL.

New York remained two points back of Boston in the East Division race as the Bruins downed Los Angeles 6-4. Elsewhere, Toronto whipped Pittsburgh 4-2, Chicago walloped St. Louis 8-3, Montreal tied Minnesota 1-1 and California turned back Detroit 4-2.

Emile Francis, general manager-coach of the Rangers, rewards his goalies with $100 bonuses for shutouts but Giacomin's job Wednesday was even more expensive for the club. That's because the mask he was wearing is a custom-built $150 job.

The new mask is constructed from a fiberglass cloth material reinforced with resin. Higgins has provided Giacomin with two models, one which covers his ears as well as his face and one which is somewhat more conventional but still affords the goalie more protection than the mask he started using this season.

"It fits more snugly around the eyes," said Giacomin "and I can see the puck at my feet better with this one. But I'm still working on it, filling it and using sandpaper on it."

Giacomin protected a 1-0 lead through two periods and then the Rangers wrapped it up with third period goals by Pete Stemkowski, Walt Tkaczuk and Jean Ratelle. Ted Irvine had New York's first goal.

Phil Esposito scored two more goals helping Boston whip Los Angeles and maintain its two point lead over the Rangers in the East race. It was the Bruins' sixth straight victory.

Esposito, the NHL's leading scorer, connected twice 49 seconds apart in the second period and ran his total for the season to 28 goals in 30 games. He has had 14 in the last nine games.

Stan Mikita, previously troubled by the new rule reducing the curve of the blade on his stick to a mere half-inch, exploded for four goals to lead the Black Hawks past St. Louis.

Mikita, who had only five goals before Wednesday, scored three times in Chicago's five-goal second period as the Black Hawks wiped out a 3-1 St. Louis lead.

Montreal, frustrated by ex-teammate Gump Worsley until midway through the third period, earned a tie with Minnesota on Claude Larose's late goal.

Larose, an ex-North Star, connected at 10:25, balancing Minnesota's goal by Bill Goldsworthy, who had hit with the game 2½ minutes old.

Toronto ran its winning streak to four games by whipping Pittsburgh with rookie Bill MacMillan scoring twice.

Ron Ellis and Jim Dorey scored Toronto's other goals while Andy Bathgate and Bob Blackburn hit for the Penguins.

Bifocals Can Be A Pain in the Neck

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

If you have a pain in the neck or arm or tingling in the hands, it may be caused by your glasses. Dr. Claire Wolfe explained the problem to the American Congress of Rehabilitation Medicine.

It all began when Ben Franklin invented bifocals to keep from using two pair of glasses. The reading lens was put at the bottom. This is fine for reading a book on your lap or reading something lying on the desk, but that is about the only time it is fine. In these reading positions the neck is bent forward and the eyes cast downward. But, if the person reads something at eye level, like holding up a newspaper, or reads something above the head he is in trouble. This curves the neck backward in an abnormal position.

Bending the neck backward tends to compress the normal space between the vertebrae. As the vertebrae decrease in size with age, this position causes pressure on the nerves of the spinal cord that normally pass out through the spaces between the vertebrae. This, in turn, causes pain in the neck and arm and tingling sensations in the arms and hands.

About half of middle-aged people have changes in the neck vertebrae that contribute to the problem. This is also the age when bifocals are prescribed. Then, if the person needs to do a lot of close-up eye work, he is in difficulty.

There are other ways to cause this problem besides using bifocals. Any situation that requires the head to be tilted back far enough to bend the neck backward is a potential hazard. Painting a ceiling if you are not used to it may cause sore neck muscles and if there are changes in the spine, nerve compression can occur.

Stockbrokers seated at their desk watching a ticker tape near the ceiling level must crane their neck backward in an unnatural position.

How can this be avoided? Well, Dr. Wolfe has had bifocal lenses put at the top of his glasses for reading in some instances with good success. Being aware of the problem helps to avoid it. Of course, you could use two pairs of glasses. Some of the occupational problems independent of glasses can be solved. For example, if a person must watch a television set, a ticker tape, or other monitoring device, it should be lowered to eye level or below to prevent neck craning.

The principle is very simple: If you don't get your nose too high in the air you are less likely to be a pain in the neck.

It looks more and more as if cigarette smoking is the

Retirement Pensions for Legislators

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four legislators who will not be returning to the General Assembly when it convenes Jan. 11 were approved for pensions Wednesday by the Board of Trustees of the state employees retirement system.

Two of the legislators, Sens. Dan T. Sprick of Little Rock and Fred Stafford of Marked Tree, were defeated in the Democratic primary in their bids for re-election this year.

The other two, Rep. Harry Colay of Magnolia and Sen. Clifton Wade of Fayetteville, chose not to seek re-election.

Sprick, 69, who served 10 years in the General Assembly, will draw $131 monthly under the legislature's retirement plan.

Stafford, 74, who served in the legislature for 18 years, will draw $107.45 a month. He elected to receive only 85 per cent of the $131 pension to which he is eligible. This will enable his wife to receive half of what he was receiving should she be widowed.

Colay, 63, and Wade, 61, both will draw $131. Colay had served 22 years and Wade 24 years.

NFL Grand Jury Probe Continues

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A federal grand jury investigation into possible antitrust violations in the National Football League was to continue today. Jurors heard testimony Wednesday from former NFL players Larry Benz and Henry Wallace.

Benz, the fourth former defensive back of the Cleveland Browns to testify, and Wallace, a defensive back for the Los Angeles Chargers, now the San Diego Chargers, in 1960, told newsmen that they were questioned about blackballing.

The jury is looking for possible antitrust violations and is apparently concentrating on owner-player relations to determine if there have been illegal restraints of trade. Conviction on restraint indictments could be punished by a fine of up to $50,000 and a jail term of up to one year.

Ellender Contacted by Tulane

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University football Coach Bennie Ellender said Wednesday that officials at Tulane University had asked him if he would be interested in talking to them about taking the coaching job at Tulane.

Ellender said that no offer or promise of an offer was made. The vacancy at Tulane was created this week when Coach Jim Pittman resigned to take the head coaching job at TCU.

Brazil Star Named 1970 Sportsman

LONDON (AP) — Pele, the soccer star from Brazil, was named Sportsman of 1970 Wednesday in an Associated Press poll of European sports writers. Heavyweight boxer Muhammad Ali was the only American named, being picked eighth.

Eddy Merckx, a Belgian cyclist, was second and Chris Panicoalou of Greece, the only man ever to vault 18 feet, was third. Tennis star Margaret Court of Australia was voted the top woman athlete. There were no American women in the top 10.

Control of Nuisance Animals

With a reduction in direct service-type programs by the State Game and Fish Commission, farmers and landowners bothered by nuisance animals will be looking more and more to county extension agents for information about controlling them.

A "memorandum of understanding" between the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission and the Arkansas Agricultural Extension Service has been concluded which spells out the new policy and responsibilities of each agency.

The "memorandum" defines nuisance animals as vertebrate pests, which may be unwanted fish in a pond, starlings in a feedlot, gophers in a pasture, or coyotes (wolves) on a turkey range.

Landowners and farmers who have problems with nuisance animals should contact their county extension agent or write the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, c-o Game and Fish Commission Building, Capitol Mall, Little Rock, Ark. 72201.

If the situation is one in which the county agent feels further assistance is required, he will forward a request to Robert A. Pierce, agricultural pest control specialist. Pierce or the supervisor of the nuisance animal control section, Fish and Game Commission, will evaluate the problems and coordinate an educational program on nuisance animal where necessary. Or, they will advise and - or demonstrate to the landowner proper procedures to follow to alleviate their particular problem.

If traps are needed they will be made available at cost through the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission or the landowner may purchase them from a retail outlet.

In a joint announcement by C. A. Vines, director of the Agricultural Extension Service, and Andrew H. Hulse, director of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, reasons for the policy change include:

The former Predator and Rodent Control Division of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has been reorganized into the Division of Wildlife services and has undergone a reduction in personnel. However, the agency is available for advice and guidance to individual landowners and works closely with both the Game and Fish Commission and the Agricultural Extension Service.

The Game and Fish Commission has also reduced the number of personnel in its trapping force. Both the Game and Fish Commission and the Agricultural Extension Service will cooperate in providing an educational program to enable landowners and farmers to solve any nuisance animal problem.

Clay to Quit When He Beats Frazier

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champ Muhammad Ali says he's getting out of the boxing business as soon as he polishes off Joe Frazier. "Yea, I believe I'm gettin' on out," he said Wednesday. "I'm sure I am. This will be the climax of my whole career."

Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, said he thinks the big fight of his life will be the Frazier fight, Feb. 23, 1971, in the Houston Astrodome.

Magic Words Not Always as They Seem

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The term "full employment" is in vogue with today's economic seers and policymakers. But the magic words don't always mean what they seem to say.

For example, an avowed goal of President Nixon's economic policy is full employment by mid-1972. Yet some of his advisers admit they'd be reasonably happy if, by that time, there were as many as 3.5 million men and women still looking for jobs.

And the President wants to balance the "full employment budget" for fiscal 1972, starting next July 1. He may do that, but he could still have a real, financial deficit of $10 or $12 billion.

What does full employment mean, then?

In customary Washington usage nowadays, it means getting unemployment down to about 4 per cent of the labor force.

That would still leave at least 3.3 million people jobless.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers told questioners he thinks of 4 per cent as "the midpoint of a full employment zone." Other officials acknowledge that anything up to 4.5 per cent—and maybe a little more—would be a reasonable goal for mid-1972.

And that would represent a solid gain, because many expect the rate to climb above 6 per cent in 1971 before it starts down. Few think it will get as low as 5 per cent anytime next year.

The term full employment became embedded in the language during the Great Depression of the 1930s, when it was a pie-in-the-sky target of the Roosevelt New Deal.

The definition was vague, but it was achieved in World War II. Over-achieved, in fact, because the wartime labor shortage was as acute as the tire or meat shortage.

In many respects the country's war production effort was limited by lack of labor. Even so, there was still 1.2 per cent unemployment in 1944, the year of peak homefront effort.

This was less than what the experts call normal "frictional" unemployment. Frictional unemployment represents newcomers to the labor force who haven't yet found work, workers who quit to hunt another job, some who were laid off but hope to be called back; others who are idle because of weather, or who are waiting for a call to work from a cannery, lumber mill or other seasonal or sporadic employer.

A quarter-century ago it was generally assumed that the frictionally unemployed—plus those who couldn't get work because of illiteracy, instability or other handicaps—would add up to 2 or 2½ per cent of the labor force.

After the war, industry raced to satisfy the pent-up civilian demand released after years of rationing and austerity. The millions of war plant workers and demobilized servicemen were hired swiftly. The dreaded postwar depression never came. But neither did full employment. The 2.5 per cent rate was achieved in only one postwar year, 1953, and that was the result of an economy overheated by the Korean War.

That year also saw the start of a recession which boosted unemployment in 1954 to an average 5 per cent. It was the first of three recessions which plagued the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower—each longer than the last and each leaving the unemployment rate at a higher level when recovery

New Heathcliff Wore No Tie, Restaurant Wouldn't Seat Him

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — It wasn't

an auspicious arrival for Timothy Dalton, who stands on the threshold of international stardom.

The handsome, brooding young English actor had come here to beat a few drums for American International's new production of "Wuthering Heights," based on Emily Bronte's classic novel. Tim plays Heathcliff, the role which won fame for Sir Laurence Olivier 31 years ago.

Haggard after a 29-hour wait at a fogbound British airport, Tim showed annoyance when he came to a luncheon interview at Toots Shor's restaurant only to be told he couldn't be seated because he had no necktie on.

"How stupid!" he exclaimed. "Who cares in a restaurant whether a man seated at the next table is wearing a necktie or not?"

The party then adjourned to Sardi's, where any member of the theatrical profession probably would be welcomed even though he was adorned only with a withered fig leaf. There, came.

The last of these slumps undoubtedly helped to defeat Eisenhower's vice president, Richard M. Nixon, when he ran for president in 1960.

When John F. Kennedy took office, with unemployment around 6.8 per cent, he readjusted the "full employment" goal. Kennedy's economic advisers, headed by Walter W. Heller, looked for a goal that might be realistic. They came up with 4 per cent, as what they called an "interim objective."

That goal finally was reached; unemployment ranged from 3.6 to 3.8 per cent in each of the last three years of the Johnson administration. This was the climax of a nine-year boom that was fueled by the biggest tax cut in history and, later on, by the Vietnam war, the biggest federal deficit since World War II, and a serious inflation.

The Nixon administration undertook to slow the inflation gently, to avoid painful unemployment. This feat did not come off. The policy of "gradualism," a steady application of moderate fiscal-monetary restraints, has produced only inconclusive results in moderating the inflation, while unemployment has risen every month for the past year.

The unemployment rate, which averaged 3.5 per cent in 1969, reached 5.8 per cent in November, partly because of the General Motors strike. About 4.6 million Americans needed work.

To restore "full employment" by the middle of 1972 would require giant strides in production for the next 18 months—gains of up to 8 per cent in real output in some quarters.

To help generate this growth, Nixon is accepting two big deficits without quibble—an estimated $15 billion this year, perhaps $10 or $12 billion in the budget now being drafted for fiscal 1972.

But he is insisting, so far, on balancing the "full employment budget." This is not an actual spending plan but an economic concept. It is the level of federal outlays which equals the amount of revenue that would be generated if the economy were running at a full employment rate—that is, with only about 4 per cent joblessness.

So Nixon could balance the "full employment budget" in fiscal 1972 if his real expenditures plus his real deficit did not exceed the estimated revenue that he would be collecting if the economy were running at full steam.

In economic theory, the real deficit would be desirable because it would be stimulative; it would generate jobs, income and profits, and thus would help propel the economy back to full employment. It would be inflationary only if it got so much larger that it threw the full employment budget into deficit also.

The full employment budget for next year will be around $230 billion, by most estimates. Nixon ordered a government-wide spending limit of $225 billion several months ago; officials say it will be exceeded.

Whether the prospective outlays will be high enough to cause a deficit in the full employment budget remains to be seen.

under the influence of a plate of roast pork and two lagers of beer, Tim cooled down and told about himself.

"Acting is something I've always felt I wanted to do—something within me," he said. "The only other thing I'd want to do is to compose music—music that came from within me, no matter what form it took."

Dalton started his career at 16. Now only 24, he won the crucial role of Heathcliff after several years in repertory theaters, television, and noteworthy appearances in three films, "The Lion in Winter," "Cromwell," and "The Voyageur."

A man with as much storm as sunshine in him, Tim also has more than a streak of the rebel. His moods are chameleon.

"I change all the time," he acknowledged. "You aren't the same man every day."

"The total rationalization of every impulse in man will destroy man. I believe you should be true to yourself and your own instincts. If people really knew what the complexity of living was, they'd be in a better state."

"My philosophy is to live for now. Don't spend your life looking over your shoulder. You die your death, so live your life."

Dalton is an advocate of action and has a contempt for people who temporize in every situation or always seek the easy way out.

"You have to get on with living the best way you can," he remarked. "If you spend too much time thinking about something or criticizing yourself, you'll never do anything."

Illinois Has Adopted New Constitution

By MICHAEL ROBINSON
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois voters have adopted a new state constitution that streamlines the tax system and bans job and housing discrimination. But they apparently rejected a separate proposal to give the power of the ballot to 18-year-olds.

With 10,292 of the 10,916 polling places in the state reported, the totals were 1,072,297 votes in favor of the new state charter and 786,683 opposed.

The new measure needed only a simple majority of the ballots cast in the statewide referendum Tuesday. The present constitution is 100 years old.

The victory of the new document reflected a heavily favorable turnout of Chicago area Democrats, led by Mayor Richard J. Daley, who favored the new Constitution with some reservations.

Voters outside the Chicago area—Cook County—rejected the charter, 456,325 to 386,333.

Topcoat weather and lack of interest kept the turnout of voters to near 30 per cent statewide, but the figure was close to 40 per cent in Chicago.

The draft constitution was supported by a broad coalition that included leaders of both political parties, business and civic groups and most news media.

Opponents of the new charter, most of them opposed to its revenue article, were headed by the Illinois AFL-CIO.

Mayor Daley said he considered the revenue article unfair not only because it prohibits a graduated income tax because it provides that the ratio of corporate to individual income taxes never shall exceed 8-to-5.

The charter specifies that women will have equal rights with men in dealing with the government and outlawing racial bias in employment and housing.

It grants broad home rule taxing powers to some cities and counties that consider the state legislature not sympathetic enough to local problems such as urban blight and faltering transit systems.

Four other proposals were presented separately to the voters:

—The vote for 18-year-olds, apparently defeated with incomplete returns showing account of 978,519 to 824,194 against.

—Abolition of the death penalty, rejected 1,139,708 to 627,522.

—Replacement of three-member districts in the Illinois House with single-member districts, turned down, 986,502 to 786,683.

—Making judgeships appointive instead of elective, voted down 953,428 to 820,159.

Poles Report End to Three Day Riots

By NICHOLAS LILLITOS
Associated Press Writer
WARSAW (AP) — Calm returned today to the Gdansk area after three days of riots and street fighting touched off by price increases, Warsaw Radio reported.

"Life in Gdansk has returned to normal," said the government radio. "The population went quietly to work this morning. All city transport is running normally."

"Although the City Council set the opening hour for shops at 7, tradesmen voluntarily opened their doors at 6 to enable people to buy food. The streets are almost clear of rubble."

The broadcast did not say whether the 6 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew had been lifted, but the city's two newspapers were publishing on schedule.

Tight security was still in effect around the tri-cities of Gdansk, Gdynia and Sopot this morning. All flights to the area on the western shore of the Bay of Danzig were suspended and long-distance telephone service had not resumed.

The official death toll in the fighting stood at six, but other sources said at least 12 were killed and more than 150 injured, including many police.

Travelers arriving Wednesday night from Gdansk, the former German city of Danzig, said the fighting between street crowds and police was dying down, but that a sit-in by workers in factories and shipyards was under way.

A Western diplomat who was in Gdansk Monday, gave this report of the start of the fighting: Shipyard workers were marching peacefully in the city Monday afternoon to protest increases averaging 20 per cent in the government price of food, fuel, clothing and other commodities.

Police, seeing they were outnumbered by the demonstrators, panicked and started shooting. This triggered demonstrations all over the city.

The official party newspaper, Trybuna Ludu, said today the riots "must become a serious lesson for the whole party, for the working class and the working masses." It added that "those responsible for murders, arson and looting must suffer severe punishment."

Willisville High School homecoming will be held Tuesday night, December 29, 1970, beginning at 6:00 P.M. with registration for all former students of WHS. All former students and graduates are invited to attend and all former teachers and their families.

The homecoming queen will be crowned and will be selected from royalty consisting of elementary candidates. The royalty consists of Shelia Williams, Anita Kincheto, and Regina Ackerson.

The Willisville Senior basketball teams will play Bloomburg, Texas senior teams beginning with the senior girls tilt at 6:30 p.m. followed by the senior boys at 7:30 p.m. All former students will be recognized during the crowning ceremonies.

Willisville Homecoming is an annual affair and is sponsored by the Senior Class.

SKYCRANES LIFT 20 TONS. Two Army Flying Crane helicopters lift 40,000 pounds in one flight of a series being conducted to evaluate a twin helicopter concept. Load consisted of a 5,000-pound steel girder, or spreader bar, attached to each 'copter's winch and cable system, plus two concrete blocks slung from the spreader bar weighing 35,000 pounds. It's the heaviest load ever lifted by helicopters in the Western world.

Time Biggest Foe of Import Quota Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Time has become the most formidable opponent of the ever-controversial trade bill, with its provision for quotas on imports of textiles and shoes.

Even the most ardent supporters of the bill, which the affected industries say they need to survive foreign competition—conceded the measure's chances dim with each day as the Jan. 3 constitutional deadline for adjournment nears.

On that date the 91st Congress goes out of existence, and all legislation not finally enacted dies with it. The trade bill still has a long way to go.

But its backers have not stopped fighting, nor devising strategy to break the legislative logjam in the Senate that threatens to bury the bill.

Some recent developments are in their favor. The prospect that Congress will remain in session to the end, has been heightened by warnings from Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and President Nixon's threat to recall the lawmakers if they adjourn earlier without final action on measures he designated as vital. One is a trade bill with a textile quota provision.

The chance that the Senate will be paralyzed by a quasi-filibuster against funds for the super-sonic transport has been reduced.

Secret Papers Reveal Military Spied on Congress, Civilians

By JOHN S. LANG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret military guidelines give the Navy and Air Force domestic intelligence gathering duties similar to those of the Army, which a senator says has spied on members of Congress and hundreds of other civilians.

Documents obtained by The Associated Press, including one stamped "secret" on every page, state the two military branches have "investigative and reporting requirements relating to civil disturbances and dissident or subversive activities."

Until now little has been known about Navy and Air Force domestic intelligence operations, although the Army's activities in this field—undertaken under similar guidelines have been the subject of a year-long controversy.

The furor flared again Wednesday when Sen. Sam Er-

Care for Aged Neglect Blamed on Officials, Doctors, Nurse Homes

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Ralph Nader task force of six teen-agers charges that doctors, federal officials and nursing home owners are bedfellows in an epidemic of national neglect of decent care for the sick and the old.

A 346-page report, released Thursday, lashed out at a "serious lack of medical supervision" in the deaths of 25 patients from salmonella poisoning at a Baltimore, Md., nursing home where the illness went unreported for four days last July.

And it criticized the Social Security Administration, saying it delayed setting new safety standards after the death of 32 patients in a nursing home fire at Marietta, Ohio, earlier in the year.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is the way the nation treats its elderly, Nader said in a preface to the report.

The summer-long study was done for Nader by six teen-agers and their teacher from an exclusive private school in Connecticut. The group was headed by Claire Townsend, 18, daughter of Robert Townsend, author of the best-seller, "Up the Organization."

The report was issued as Nader and the girls prepared to testify before a Senate subcommittee hearing on nursing home care. Despite more than $1 billion a year in federal aid, "80 per cent of the nursing homes that receive public tax dollars do not meet even minimal federal standards," the report said.

The task force described patients as victims of callousness and incompetence among nursing home staffs, neglected by their doctors, subjected to what it termed shocking drug abuse. The report called for stricter enforcement of the federal standards that do exist, suggested medical reviews of homes by doctors, and backed better training for nursing aides.

But most of the report's recommendations consisted of a 20-page recitation of previous proposals by other task forces.

The girls, who are now college freshmen, spent the summer on the project, interviewing government officials and working a couple of days undercover in nursing homes. Their report was submitted to Nader in September and retouched by the consumer advocate's staff before its release.

Arkansan Held by Koreans

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Seoul police are holding Robert D. Landers, 25, of Cave City, Ark., who officers said tried to sell hallucinatory drugs to a detective posing as a drug dealer.

Landers was arrested Wednesday as he delivered drugs to the detective in a hotel room, officers said.

Police said they had confiscated 1,850 pills and were questioning Landers on charges of violating South Korea's drug-control law. Landers, who said he was a tourist, arrived in South Korea on Oct. 25, police said.

The U.S. embassy said it was trying to get permission to talk with Landers.

Rhodes Scholars Are Selected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — David L. Margolis, 21, of Dermott and John H. Churchill, 21, of Little Rock were selected Wednesday as the state's nominees for Rhodes Scholarships.

The two will represent the state Saturday at the Gulf District Rhodes Scholarship Committee at New Orleans. At the meeting, four Rhodes Scholars will be selected from the nominees of Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma.

Margolis is a senior at Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa., and Churchill is a senior at Southwestern at Memphis.

Filibuster Flares Over SST Issue

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senate filibuster aimed at ending federal subsidies for the super-sonic transport has begun with an unusually bitter flare of tempers between the project's chief opponent and leading defender.

In the debate's opening hours Wednesday Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., asked Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., if his sponsorship of a bill to reduce the possible bad effects of faster-than-sound flights had been only a gesture to win Senate support for SST funding.

Magnuson, whose home state has most to gain from full production of a fleet of American supersonic planes, roared his resentment.

Earlier, laying the groundwork for his attempt to talk the project to death, Proxmire won several admissions from SST supporters.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., floor manager of the $7-billion transportation appropriations bill containing a reduced SST prototype development budget, said action by a conference committee in reducing SST spending by $80 million eventually might add $150 million to the program's total cost and would be almost certain to cause "several thousand" of the 15,000 SST workers to be laid off soon.

Bible said lesser spending would reduce the SST project mainly to research and development. But it would keep it alive.

The point, Proxmire countered, is that the Senate, worried about the possible adverse impact of an SST fleet on the environment voted to stop the entire program, not just slow it down.

The House approved $290 million to continue SST development. The Senate had earlier eliminated the funds from the transportation bill but $210 million was restored by a conference committee.

The Proxmire debate isn't a real filibuster at this point since arrangements have been made for interruptions to allow some other business to go on.

Neither side has shown the least indication of compromising on the SST issue.

10,000 U.S. Troops to Leave Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and the United States agreed today on a program to withdraw some 10,000 U.S. ground troops and most of the Phantom fighter-bombers from Japan by next June 30.

The agreement, reached at technical-level talks, will be formally endorsed at the Japan-U.S. security treaty consultative conference set for Monday in Tokyo.

The planned reduction also will mean discharge of about 10,000 Japanese workers at U.S. military bases.

Japan and the United States also agreed to transfer control over the Atsugi air naval facility, southwest of Tokyo, to the Japanese maritime self-defense force and deploy the main strength of the U.S. 7th Fleet from Yokosuka, south of Tokyo, to Sasebo, Kyushu, southwest Japan.

Foreign Ministry sources described the planned reduction as part of the United States' dollar-saving program.

Vote With the Minority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reps. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., and Bill Alexander and Wilbur Mills, both D-Ark., voted with the majority Wednesday when the House passed a $2.6 billion catch-all appropriation bill including $210 million for the super-sonic transport.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., was the only Arkansas congressman to vote against the bill. The vote was 319-71.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved President Nixon's Cambodian aid request by overcoming the first tangle in a parliamentary snarl that could keep four major money bills hanging right up to the Jan. 3 expiration of the 91st Congress.

"I have never seen such a state of confusion exist," Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., declared shortly before Wednesday's vote as he made an unsuccessful effort to limit debate on a series of measures remaining before the Senate.

The $544.2-million aid bill was passed 72 to 22 and sent to conference with the House after the Senate rejected 61 to 33 a move by Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, to cut $155 million of $255 million intended for Cambodia.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, one of the architects of a series of restrictions on U.S. aid to Cambodia, predicted Senate conferees "will be very ada-

Manpower Training Bill Vetoed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Exercising his veto power for the seventh time, President Nixon has rejected a $9.5-billion manpower-training bill whose immediate impact would have been creation of thousands of public-service jobs to fight unemployment.

"I cannot accept this legislation which only perpetuates and extends the deficiencies in our manpower program," Nixon said Wednesday in a veto message to the Senate. "WPA-type jobs are not the answer..."

The bill earmarked $2 billion in grants to cities and states for public-service employment, beginning with $200 million this fiscal year and increasing in $200-million increments until fiscal 1974.

Backers contended the program would have created 40,000 jobs this year and as many as 300,000 by 1974, mostly in such areas as health, conservation, sanitation and fire and police work. Mayors and governors would have designated the type jobs filled under the program for those unable to find work in private industry.

Most of the remaining $7.5 billion in the three-year authorization bill would have gone to existing manpower-training programs and such projects as the Job Corps. The existing programs are not affected by the veto.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

There was a wedding last Saturday, December 13, of interest to the whole world. Santa Claus got married in Huntington, New York, and among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Claus of Hope. The groom, a native of Kilgore, Texas (not the North Pole), is named Santa Michael Claus and is the son of the local Mr. Claus. Mrs. C. C. Claus (Aline) is secretary to the Hope Chamber of Commerce manager, B. N. Holt. The bride is named Joyce (probably called Joy), and the couple will reside in Huntington, New York, where he works for the telephone company.

Give it time and just about everything will come over a news desk. For instance an order for a subscription to The Star came in from Germany from a man named John Sander who apparently is a patient in a hospital. Not knowing the value of a German mark or even if its for real, the bill was turned over to First National Bank and Mrs. Lois O'Neal, who does just about everything over there, will send

Terrorism Brings More Saigon Patrols

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. command increased its police patrols in Saigon today as part of a precautionary alert to counter a pre-Christmas wave of terrorist attacks in the South Vietnamese capital.

The U.S. Air Force said it had intelligence reports showing "a very likely possibility of increased attempts of assassination and kidnapping of U.S. servicemen."

Three Americans were killed and 14 wounded in bomb and grenade attacks in Saigon Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Two gunmen killed a member of the South Vietnamese National Assembly today, but it apparently was not a case of political terrorism; the gunmen were trying to extort more than $7,000 from the assemblyman, a doctor.

The U.S. Command said the Army "has increased its military police patrols and has advised military personnel to avoid crowds and the downtown area of Saigon whenever possible. Personnel were advised to take normal safety precautions which have always been in effect."

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said civilian personnel were also being reminded of normal precautions, particularly those for the security of buildings and vehicles.

Outside the capital, one American was killed and eight were wounded in an ambush in the Central Highlands. South Vietnamese troops reported a sharp clash in eastern Cambodia. But with American battlefield action continuing at a low level, the U.S. Command in its weekly casualty summary said 29 of its men were killed in action last week and 32 others died from accidents, illness and other non-hostile causes.

Another 377 Americans were wounded in action last week, while the South Vietnamese command said it had 290 men killed and 754 wounded. The U.S. Command said allied forces killed 351 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

AP&L Seeks Hearing on Credit Cost

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Power & Light Co. requested a rehearing from the state Public Service Commission Wednesday on the agency's order prohibiting the utility from allowing credits against the cost of installing underground electrical lines.

AP&L contends the order was an "unlawful and arbitrary invasion of management's discretion." The PSC ordered an end to the credits Dec. 1.

AP&L has a policy of allowing developers, builders and homeowners credits against the cost of installing underground facilities if they install appliances that use electricity in off-peak periods.

"Let's stick together" is the theme of the Christmas Seal Campaign which begun officially November 10 with the mailing of this year's new and interestingly different Christmas Seals to 6,300 families in Hempstead County.

"Teamwork is beating tuberculosis," says Mrs. Dee McMurrugh, Chairman of the Christmas Seal Campaign this year in Hempstead, and she urges all who haven't sent in contributions please do so as soon as possible.

Army to Drop Some Practices

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Army Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland says the Army is "willing to part with past practices where these no longer serve a productive and useful end."

Westmoreland told a Chamber of Commerce banquet audience Wednesday night that "we seek an army in which service is personally satisfying, individually rewarding and professionally stimulating."

But, the general said, if an all-volunteer army is to be built, "public support must be visible, audible and tangible."

The Rev. W. H. Hunter, vice chairman of Shorter's 39-member Board of Trustees, read at a news conference a prepared statement that he said had been adopted unanimously by the 34 board members who attended a special meeting on the matter Wednesday.

PROPOSED BUDGET OF EXPENDITURES TOGETHER WITH TAX LEVY FOR FISCAL YEAR BEGINNING JULY 1, 1972 TO AND INCLUDING JUNE 30, 1973

The Board of Directors of Hope School District No. 1-A of Hempstead County, Arkansas, in compliance with the requirements of Act 403 of 1951 and of Amendment 40 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, has prepared, approved and hereby makes public the proposed budget of expenditures together with the tax rate as follows:

Teachers Salaries	$825,000
General Control	50,000
Instructional Cost (Operating Fund)	30,000
Transportation	65,000
Operation of Plant	75,000
Maintenance of Plant	25,000
Fixed Charges	60,000
Non Bonded Debt	1,840
Capital Outlay	3,000
Debt Service	145,986

To provide for the foregoing proposed budget of expenditures the Board of Directors proposes a tax levy of 50 mills, divided as follows: 20-3/4 mills is for the operation of the school; 24-1/4 mills is a continuing tax previously voted for bonds now outstanding; and 5 mills plus the surplus of the 1-3/4 mill tax pledged for the retirement of an issue of school bonds of the District dated January 1, 1952 through 1972 and thereafter 6-3/4 mills shall be a continuing building fund tax for a proposed bond issue of approximately $600,000, which will run approximately 21 years, to be issued for the purpose of constructing and equipping new school buildings and making additions and improvements to existing school buildings, and said building fund tax will constitute a continuing annual levy until the principal and interest of the proposed bonds are paid in full. Surplus revenue from the building fund millage may be used for other school purposes.

The additional 1-3/4 mills beginning in 1973 will replace equivalent millage of the present continuing tax which would otherwise cease because of the retirement of the portion of the outstanding bonds for which levied.

GIVEN THIS 14 day of December, 1970.

The Labeikos, who came to this country from Russia shortly after the turn of the century, had lived in their Lower East Side apartment for 33 years. They were being evicted because they owed the landlord $155. The landlord had raised the rent from $36.80 to $46.80 a month and their Social Security money and Sam's pension simply wouldn't stretch that far. Patrolman Thomas Finneran, 20, and his partner, Bob Borowski, 29, were assigned to stand by while a marshal evicted the couple. They decided to help.

First they demanded a look at the marshal's identity card which it turned out had expired. Then they noticed the eviction papers identified Sam as "John."

They sent the marshal packing, returned to their station house and got a donation of $1 from each of the 53 policemen on duty.

Back at the apartment, Sam had enough to make up the difference.

"We all felt," said Finneran afterward, "these were elderly people who had worked all their lives without taking handouts, and that they deserved a better break than they were getting."

In Miami Sgt. Kimbro said he gave up his money to help the families because "I'm black, I like kids and it won't hurt me to stay sober over Christmas."

The two families were evicted from an apartment building Tuesday as the result of a rent strike by Negro tenants that started in August.

Kimbro took Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Small to a motel and guaranteed payment of $36 for two night's lodging.

"I'm no good Samaritan or humanitarian," Kimbro said. "I'm a cop. But I like kids and I didn't want to see those kids hauled around because of this rent strike. They could have been hurt."

The United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., was established in 1954.
